LOVE STORY

Some love stories begin with a grand moment.

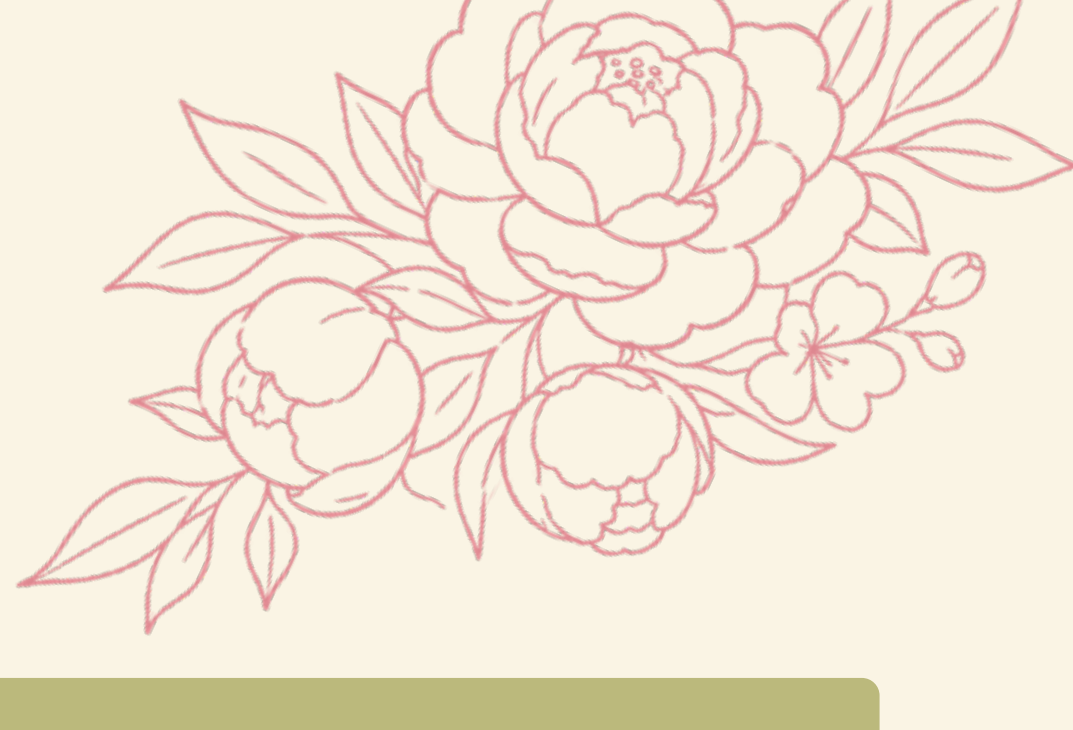

For Nguyen (Andy) & Kim, theirs began rather quietly, with an Instagram connection, two students from Saigon who had both been accepted to Boston University.

What began as conversations about school slowly became walks through the cold Boston nights, shared meals, new cities, and a love that grew quietly with every season.

Through the years, they became each other's home, cheering one another on through dreams, challenges, and all the little moments in between.

After all these years, perhaps their greatest adventure is just beginning...
